Late Entry Just in Time

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—There was an unscheduled entry in the first race at the Rio de Janeiro Jockey Club Sunday—an airplane.

The horses were lining up in the starting gate, when a small single-engine plane sputtered overhead out of gas.

Hamilton Lourenco Bastos zoomed to a neat landing down the homestretch to the cheers of the racing fans. The plane was towed to the infield and the horses took over the show.

Met His Match

Regarded by many as the bare-knuckled champion of the NHL, Lou Fontinato, dethroned and somewhat downcast, heads for repairs after a brief but lively bout with Detroit's Gordie Howe Sunday. He was taken to hospital and treated for a broken nose. —(AP Photofax.)

Chow Leading All-Events Race

High scores were the exception rather than the rule Sunday as 52 teams rolled at Strathcona Bowling Alleys for the city tenpin championship.

When the five shifts were completed, the B.C. Government Tenpin League's No. 5 team had the city title, the Arcade Trophy and $65, thanks to a hot night and a high handicap. Team total was 2,256, but a whopping 612-pin handicap built it up to 2,868.

Second was the Dockyard team with 2,826, followed by Manufacturer's Life with 2,805.

Lloyd Chow got off to a fast start in the fight for the all-events championship, which will be decided after next weekend's doubles and singles competition. Chow rolled a scratch 634 series on games of 197, 223 and 214.

Fontinato Dethroned . . . . . . As Bare-Knuckle Champ

Detroit Lost, But Howe Didn't

Lou Fontinato, acclaimed by his admirers as the bare-knuckle champion of the National Hockey League, got around to trying Gordie Howe for size on Sunday night and was found wanting.

In a brawly game at Detroit, Fontinato challenged Howe after the latter had clipped Eddie Shack on the head with his stick. The big Detroit star wasted no time in accepting. He whipped off his gloves, pinned Fontinato's arms and brought up a disastrous uppercut which broke Fontinato's nose, and also dislocated one of Howe's fingers.

The struggle lasted for about a minute and New York coach Phil Watson called it the best NHL fight he had seen since "Art Coulter and Dit Clapper tried to cripple each other 20 years ago."

HOWE WON

There was no official decision but onlookers unanimously credited Howe with the decision.

Fontinato conceded that "Howe's a pretty good fighter. He kinda rearranged my nose," but added "I wasn't losing."

Howe had little to say about it. "We don't get paid for fighting," he remarked, "but there wasn't anything else I could do when he came after me."

Watson, impressed by the fight action, was nevertheless a bit upset about the whole thing.

"Howe gets away with murder," he moaned. "He cross-checked Shack on the head for three stitches. He's been doing things like that for years but the referees won't give penalties to Howe."

ROUGH GAME

There were two other casualties in the game. Ranger defenceman Harry Howell needed four stitches in a cut on his chin and Warren Godfrey, Detroit defenceman, went to the hospital with a concussion after a tussle with Shack.

Rangers won the game, 5-4, staving off a Detroit rally after leading by 4-1 at one time. Red Sullivan, with two goals and an assist, and Andy Hebenton, with his 20th goal and two assists, led the New York attack. A crowd of 15,168 took in the rugged action.

Crowds were also excellent in the other games at Chicago and Boston. The largest turnout in 10 years — 16,896 — at Chicago saw the Black Hawks and Montreal Canadiens repeat their 3-3 draw of Saturday night. It was almost identical, with Litzenberger getting two goals for the Hawks in each game and Don Marshall and Dick Moore getting a goal a game for Canadiens, who had to come from behind in each game.

BRUINS MOVE UP

Boston Bruins grabbed a three-point margin on Detroit by knocking off Toronto Maple Leafs, 6-4, before 13,776 Boston fans. Little Guy Gendron got three goals for the Bruins, who have now won four of their last five games after a bad slump.
